Read 20!

Children (even babies!) who are read to for 20 minutes each day are more prepared for school, experience more life success, and are happier overall. Help your child thrive, and make each day a reading day!

Color in a section of the guitar for every 20 minutes you read with your child this summer. A complete guitar is a total of 600 reading minutes. Return this completed log to your local library to redeem a prize you'll both love.

You can also complete these activities to earn an additional prize.

Attend a free library event	Visit a park	Create a work of art	Build with blocks
Help someone together	Count your child's fingers	Throw a dance party	Sing the ABCs
Help your child write (or scribble!) their name	Sing a nursery rhyme	Play a game of pretend	Make up a story to tell
Make up a song for a daily routine	Read a book from Speakaboo at library.nashville.org/speakaboos	Complete a ReadyRosie activity together at library.nashville.org/readyroisie	Play in the water

What did you read?

Bonus challenge: Sign up for a library card at library.nashville.org/get-card or at any NPL location.
